We are pleased to announce that The Sonora News of Cananea, continue to live, notwithstanding Editor Cohn's recent published fears that his interesting little weekly would soon die a natural death, as a result of unsettled conditions in the copper camp. Here's hoping Bro. Cohn and The Sonora News may live long and prosper.

This week O. F. Ashburn, the big Monkey Springs cattleman, shipped 1000 head of cattle from Sonora, where the Southern Pacific recently built pens for shipping purposes. Mr. Ashburn is one Arizona's most experienced successful stockraisers. He has been in the business many years and understands every detail of the game.

J. J. Evans, a well known Cananea-Bisbee mining man, who has been engaged in mining in Sonora, came up from the south Wednesday for a month's rest in Nogales, where we have the most delightful all-the-year-round climate on earth. He reports C. C. Rountree, manager of the Creston Colorado mines, almost fully recovered from his recent serious illness. Mr. Rountree will come to Nogales to spend some time, in the near future, according to Dr. Magruder, who is a guest at the Montezuma hotel.

H. A. Byrne, manager of the Patagonia Lumber Company, came down from Patagonia the forepart of the week on a combined business and pleasure visit. He reports business in the second city in the county flourishing. No boom, just a steady, substantial improvement in all lines of business, including lumber and other builders' supplies, handled by his firm.

Last Monday night Dr. Lopez, the well known popular Nogales, Sonora physician and surgeon, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff James Cotter, on a charge of practicing medicine in Arizona without a license, which is contrary to the statutes of Arizona. The doctor immediately put up a cash bond for his appearance when wanted and was released from custody, to the delight of his numerous friends.

Monday a handsome big seven-passenger Pope-Hartford touring car arrived in the city from Douglas. It is said to belong to Governor Pesqueira of Sonora. Representatives of the Huerta government believing the big auto was being used to smuggle ammunition across the line at this point, had Uncle Sam's soldier search the car every time it crossed the international line. Each time the boys drew a blank.

W. H. Barnett, Patagonia's postmaster, was a business visitor in the city several days this week, being accompanied by Mrs. Barnett. The Barnetts own valuable mining property in the Patagonias, also the splendid big hotel at Patagonia. The Happy Jack, of which Mr. Barnett is manager, is looking better than ever. Arrangements are being made to ship some of the high-grade ore to the smelter at Douglas.

E. L. Griswold, of the Penn-Sonora Mining Company, has been in town several days from the Durazno gold camp, situated a short distance from Nogales, west in Sonora, where since the first of May the mill installed by Roy & Titcomb, Inc., of this city, has been pounding out yellow metal. Mr. Griswold, who is largely interested financially in the company, is in charge of the mercantile end of the affairs of the company.

Assays from the El Paso smelter of the ore shipped there for treatment, from the Buena Vista mines owned by Messrs. William Schuckmann and Richard Fleischer, situated a short distance from the great Three R mines near Nogales, gave most gratifying returns. The last carload of ore shipped was sent to the Douglas smelter. The next car will possibly be sent to El Paso, the smelter there now being ready to receive customs ore.

Fred. Becker's many friends and acquaintances here and in Sonora, will be pleased to learn that he is getting along fine at the Mira Monte Sanitarium, according to Dr. Purdy, the attending physician. The milk cure will soon make a new man of Fred, and he'll be with his friends again in a short time. Hugo von Berckefeldt, manager of the Tecolote mine in Sonora, near Carbo, is personally looking after his old friend Becker.

The aeroplane, said to belong to Didier Masson, the French aviator, who the forepart of the week went to Hermosillo, accompanied by Mechanician Dean, is still held at Pike's ranch thirty miles this side of Tucson, where it was seized by U. S. Deputy Marshal Johnson last week. It is said that the United States authorities have warrants for the arrest of the bird-men on charges relative to alleged conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws.

George W. Atkinson, the veteran stockman and rancher of Calabasas, where he has resided more than a quarter of a century, was a business visitor here Thursday. Mr. Atkinson is arranging to cut grain and hay on his splendid ranch. He says he has lots of barley and hay this year, and does not propose to lose a single member of his large bovine family, if he can help it. First hell turn the poor stock on stubbles, and if necessary, he'll feed them hay.

Dr. John R. Magruder, of Minas Prietas, who for thirty years has been engaged in mining in Sonora, came up from the south Wednesday for a month's rest in Nogales, where we have the most delightful all-the-year-round climate on earth. He reports C. C. Rountree, manager of the Creston Colorado mines, almost fully recovered from his recent serious illness. Mr. Rountree will come to Nogales to spend some time, in the near future, according to Dr. Magruder, who is a guest at the Montezuma hotel.

W. E. Balcom, whose splendid home ranch is located a short distance north of Tubac, was a visitor in the city last Wednesday, having brought to town three handsome thoroughbred angorio bucks for A. M. Conard, who will take them down to his Sonora goat ranch near Noria. Balcom has about eight hundred goats. During the past five years he has supplied the Nogales and Tucson markets with nice fat lambs, for which he receives the highest market price. The bucks sold to Mr. Conard were fine animals, one of them being valued at $250.

In the preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner A. T. Bird, last Wednesday, J. K. Wright, Jack Wilson and A. C. Villaseñor, were held to appear for trial at the federal court in Phoenix next October, on a charge of conspiring to defraud the U. S. government by appropriating ammunition. The defendants' bond was fixed at $1000 each, which was promptly furnished. Assistant United States Attorney F. S. Forrest of Prescott appeared for the government, while Attorneys W. A. O'Connor and S. F. Noon appeared for the defendants.

Frank Pellier, manager of The Arcadia, one Hermosillo's big modern hotels, was a stopover visitor in the city Monday night and Tuesday, on his way north on private business. Frank is an experienced hotel man. He says the people of Hermosillo treat him well and he likes the place and the people. He reported business good now, but expected it to be better after the war in Sonora is over.

Thursday A. M. Conard, president and manager of the Sonora Copper Copper Company, went down to Cobre Grande, the big copper property owned by his company, near Noria, Sonora. Manager Conard stated that although conditions in his section of the country at the present will not warrant active operations at Cobre Grande, he has been treated well by both federal and state troops.

Agents here of the Huerta government, insist that federal reinforcements have reached Guaymas to assist Col. Barron, who is said to have retreated to Empalme after having been badly defeated by the state forces under Colonel Obregon. All reports received here during the week state that up-to-date the federals have been beat to a frazzle, in the great battle south of Ortiz, and that the followers of Huerta have reached Guaymas with their artillery. Grapevine telegrams are daily posted here purporting to be from the contending forces in our sister state, and now everything coming from Sonora is taken with a grain of salt.

One day last week a citizen of Sonora, who had just arrived from the south went to Assayer Charley Taylor's office with a 17-ounce bar of gold bullion he desired to exchange for the finished product bearing Uncle Sam's official stamp. Taylor being a recognized authority on gold bullion, its weight, value, etc., before closing the deal for the yellow metal, proceeded to test the bar by sawing and boring a hole through it. He found thirteen ounces of quick-silver and four ounces of gold, instead of seventeen ounces of gold as claimed by the owner, who later called and discovered that he had been really and truly handed a "gold brick."

Walter Holt, secretary of the Cerro de Plata Mining Company, arrived home Thursday from Hot Springs, Arkansas, feeling fine and looking the picture of health. Now that Walter has returned, Elgin, his brother, who is president and manager of the company owning the great silver bonanza, will go to the Pacific coast for a well-earned rest. Wednesday Mr. Balch, bookkeeper at Cerro de Plata, arrived from camp bringing with him great chunks of rock literally plastered with horn silver, taken from a new strike on the property. The new strike is the most important yet made and will greatly enhance the value of the Cerro de Plata.

Official instructions Wednesday from the state department at Washington, by U. S. Collector of Customs Con O'Keefe, to the effect that he should recognize all Mexican consulates in his district, was the cause Thursday of a joyous meeting of federalists at the Mexican consulate in this city. The federal officials and federal sympathizers in Nogales, believe the United States is about to recognize the Tuerta government. At Thursday's meeting of Huertistas, a number of optimistic speeches were made during which the action of the Washington authorities in recognizing the Mexican consulates was highly commended. Many wealthy citizens of Sonora, now sojourning here, were present.

Romaine Fielding, director, manager and actor of the Lubin company operating here for several months past, has returned from a flying business visit to Philadelphia, headquarters of the great Lubin Manufacturing Company, and is busy shaking hands with his wide circle of friends and acquaintances, whose name is Legion. Romaine Fielding is making an enviable reputation for himself in the moving picture world, and the productions composed and produced under his personal direction are attracting the attention and praise of critics throughout the United States. Fielding and his company of all-stars will remain here indefinitely, to the delight of his numerous friends and acquaintances, all of whom take great interest in his splendid accomplishments, and are doing everything in their power to assist him in his work.
